COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Welfare Department has proposed to freeze the level of payments to nursing homes handling welfare patients unless the homes adopt a "reasonable cost" system of calculating charges.

Robert Canary, acting state welfare director, met with about a dozen nursing home operators Friday and told them to expect no increase in the rate paid for care of welfare patients unless they agreed to the new cost system.

He said Herbert Arfman, representing The Committee for Providers of Long-Term Care, a nursing home group, announced that the decision will cause "many nursing homes to refuse to admit new welfare patients."

Arfman could not be reached for comment.

Under the "reasonable cost" system, payments are calculated after a check of the nursing homes financial accounts. Maximums range from $12 to $15 per day, per patient. Under the old, "flat rate" system the range is $11 to $14 per day.

Two weeks ago, Arfman's group threatened to start turning welfare patients out if the Welfare Department forced the new system on all 1,200 homes caring for welfare patients.

Canary later said that homes not wishing to change systems would be allowed to continue under the "flat rate." He said that to his knowledge, homes receiving those "flat rate" payments still "make money."

According to the acting welfare director, about 40 per cent of the nursing homes are operating under the "reasonable cost" system presently.

He added that he is opposed to a bill pending in the Ohio Senate which raises welfare payments to from $12 to $15 for all nursing homes, regardless of the payment system they are on.

Canary said the threat by some nursing homes not to accept any new welfare patients was "only temporary" and would not affect overall care for elderly welfare patients.

Fire is fatal to woman

Mrs. Mary Katherine Higman, 28, Rt. 2, Williamsport, who was burned in an explosion and fire which destroyed the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Taylor, at Jasper Mills Monday evening, died at 10:30 p.m. Friday in Riverside Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. Higman, her three children, Lora Lee, 7, Samuel, 4, and Thomas, 3, and her mother, Mrs. Irene Frederick, also of Rt. 2, Williamsport, were visiting at the Taylor home when the explosion and fire occurred. Mrs. Taylor and her five children and Mrs. Frederick and Mrs. Higman's three children all escaped from the blazing house. Mrs. Higman's husband, Lowell, was at work at Williamsport, and Mrs. Taylor's husband was a patient in the Chillicothe VA hospital at the time.

Mrs. Higman was a native of Fayette County where she had spent most of her life. She and her family had lived near Williamsport for only the last five years.

In addition to her husband, three children and her mother, Mrs. Higman is survived by three brothers, Marvin Frederick, 228 Hickory St., Carl Frederick, Eastern Ave., and Sgt. Charles Frederick, with the U.S. Army in Germany, and four sisters, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Charles (Doris) Jackson, of Greenfield, Mrs. Robert (Cynthia) Bain, Ohio 41-N, and Mrs. Everett (Barbara) Fitch, 718 Eastern Ave.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with the Rev. Dale Orihood, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Burial will be in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Sunday.

UMW election security tight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Balloting for the top offices of the 200,000-member United Mine Workers Union entered its second day today in a national election marked by the tightest security many miners could recall.

"They got it so tight it looks like we're a bunch of damn criminals," said Harry Fain, 71, a 47-year veteran of the mines who showed up to vote Friday at Wheelwright in Eastern Kentucky's District 30.

Fain said he has voted in every UMW election since 1923 and had never seen such close examination of miners' identification and UMW credentials. "There's one thing you can say about it," added 55-year-old Howard Hylton of Wheelwright, a retired veteran of 40 years in the mines. "It won't be crooked."

The election is to determine whether W. A. "Tony" Boyle remains as head of the powerful union.

Opposing Boyle is a slate of reform candidates led by Arnold Miller of Ohley, W.Va., running under the banner of Miners for Democracy, which sprang up after the slaying of union insurgent Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski.

Demo chairman seeks end to squabbling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats must erase their image as "squabbling, inefficient, confused and angry partisans" if they are to win back the presidency in 1976, says party Chairman Jean Westwood.

Mrs. Westwood, whose resignation has been called for by a number of powerful Democrats around the country, said in the last two presidential elections "the American people perceived a party in disarray: one segment feeling shut out, and various segments quarreling."

"The Republicans, of course, took full advantage of our troubles both times, and made every effort to separate our candidate from one section or another of our normal constituency," Mrs. Westwood said. Her remarks were contained in a formal report which she was required to submit to the 303-member Democratic National Committee before it meets here Dec. 9.

Mrs. Westwood, chosen as chairman last July by unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate Sen. George McGovern, made no direct mention in the report of the controversy surrounding her own future at party headquarters.

General Motors hikes auto prices

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. has hiked prices on 1973 models an average of $54 on the heels of Price Commission approval of the increase.

Ford Motor Co., which also received permission Friday for a $62.55 average boost, withheld immediate action.

The Ford hike, a 1.9 per cent increase, was scaled down from the $92 increase it had asked the Price Commission to approve.

Nixon plans to revitalize Republican party, Dole says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is reported preparing to revitalize the Republican Party he virtually ignored in winning his landslide re-election victory.

"The President is going to try to translate this into a Republican majority," said Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, the GOP national chairman.

In an interview, Dole said Nixon intends to strengthen the role of the Republican National Committee in making the political effort, looking toward the 1974 and 1976 elections.

He said the President, reelected with 61 per cent of the vote after a less than strenuous campaign that shunned party label, plans to shift political operations from the White House to GOP headquarters.

"Anybody in elective office who wants to see the policies that he has pursued endorsed by the people almost has to stand for re-election to get his report card stamped one way or the other," Gilligan said during a taped interview after a noon speech in Cleveland. Gilligan declined to speculate on who the Republicans might nominate to run against him, but the governor indicated he hoped it wouldn't be former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

"Jim Rhodes is extremely popular in Ohio and has a great following in Ohio," he said.

Later Friday, addressing a small group of liberal Democrats in Cleveland, Gilligan said he will attend

Panel sets recommendations Monday

State pay hike hopes mount

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 109th General Assembly, now in its waning days, will consider recommendations to raise members' pay as well as that of 880 county officials throughout Ohio.

Howard Collier of Toledo, former state finance director and chairman of a new commission on public officials' salaries, says he plans to submit the recommendations Monday.

All the increases—agreed to Friday by members of the Elected Official and Judicial Compensation Review Commission — would fall within federal Wage Board guidelines of 5.5 per cent a year, Collier said.

That means county officials recently elected to four-year terms beginning next year can receive increases up to 22 per cent. Members of the new 110th General Assembly elected last month could receive boosts up to 11 per cent. This, generally, is what the nine-member commission recommended.

The legislative proposals were based on 11 per cent because House members were elected to two-year terms and by tradition, they receive the same compensation as senators.

Lawmakers, county officials, and most other officials except judges with statewide jurisdiction are prohibited by the Ohio Constitution from receiving pay increases during their elected terms. Unless action is taken by the current lame duck session, no legislative raise could take effect before 1975 and no county raise before 1977.

In the case of the legislature, the commission recommended increases for senators and House members from $12,750 to $14,000 a year. Leaders who now earn $1,000 to $4,500 more than regular members also would get an increase within 11 per cent. The president pro tem of the Senate and the speaker of the House would be increased from $16,750 to $18,500 annually.

In all but the eight largest counties, the commission, with a few exceptions, recommended 22 per cent increase for auditors, treasurers, common pleas court clerks, recorders, commissioners, sheriffs, prosecutors, engineers, and coroners.

Officials in the eight largest counties who already earn $20,000-plus or near $20,000 would have their increases scaled down a little. They would get raises ranging from 10 to about 21 per cent. Those counties are Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Montgomery, Summit, Lucas, Mahoning, and Stark.

Collier said the commission decided to defer until next year a look into the salaries of judges, township officials, members of the state Board of Education, and officials elected statewide.

Statewide officials are in the middle of four-year terms and ineligible for raises before 1975 anyway.

Arctic cold pushes way into nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures nosedived to below zero and snow covered the extreme northern part of the nation today as a stream of arctic cold stretched from the northern Rockies to the upper Great Lakes.

The surge of arctic air sent the mercury plummeting. The temperature at Billings, Mont., dropped from 52 to 26 in a two-hour period during the night and a reading of 11 was recorded at International Falls, Minn.

Several inches of snow covered northern Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Michigan and New York.

Heavy snow was expected from the Cascades to the northern Rockies and lighter accumulations from the northern Plains to the northern Atlantic coast.

Elsewhere, generally fair weather was the rule.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 11 at International Falls, Minn., to 69 at Key West, Fla.

U.S. steps up B52 raids to help South Viet drive

SAIGON (AP) — The United States stepped up its B52 strikes today on the northern front just below the demilitarized zone, where South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers were inching forward in the face of heavy enemy artillery fire.

The giant bombers flew nearly 40 missions against enemy troop concentrations and staging areas in Quang Tri Province. Most of the strikes were north and south of the Cua Viet River, which forms a natural defense line.

Some 18 B52 missions were launched against enemy supply caches around the North Vietnamese port of Dong Hoi, 30 miles above the DMZ.

Radio Hanoi charged the United States with mounting what it called "barbarous raids" with B52s and naval artillery against population centers in North Vietnam. It said civilians — mostly old people, women and children — were killed in attacks in Quang Binh Province.

Ground action picked up in the Central Highlands, where Fire Base November, 4 miles north of Kontum City, was bombed by mortars and heavy artillery. Government casualties were three dead and 11 wounded.

Meanwhile, U.S. authorities identified the five American aid officials killed or injured when a South Vietnamese Caribou transport crashed Friday while taking them on an inspection of refugee camps on the central coast northeast of Saigon.

'Blue Flu' hits East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—East Liverpool Mayor Norman Bucher formally asked policemen staying away from work with the "Blue Flu" to return to work today pending further negotiations in a wage dispute.

The 31-man force has demanded a 15 per cent pay increase, while the city council has offered only a three per cent increase effective Jan. 1, plus an across-the-board $400 pay boost, although the department would have to agree to eliminate overtime pay.

Only three policemen, including the police chief, showed up for duty Friday during the day, and only two, plus a civilian dispatcher, were on hand Friday night.

Strike could delay Apollo

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 17 astronauts take to the air for proficiency runs in jet planes today as equal maneuvering continues in efforts to avert a threatened strike that could delay their launch to the moon Wednesday night.

Eugene A. Cernan, geologist Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans planned to drive to nearby Patrick Air Force Base in the afternoon to fly the fast T38 jets in proficiency runs over south Florida.

The astronauts feel such flights not only sharpen their flying skills but also provide relaxation from rigorous training for the flight, the last in the Apollo series.

Cernan and Schmitt also were to practice on a model of the moon buggy they are to drive 23 miles over their Taurus-Littrow landing site in a search for rocks they hope will fill in missing chapters of lunar history.

Kennedy Space Center officials remained optimistic that Apollo 17 will take off on schedule at 9:53 p.m. EST Wednesday despite the threat of a strike by 60 documentation personnel before the launching if their wage demands are not met. No strike date has been announced.

The workers seek restitution of 30 to 50 per cent pay cuts they received when the Boeing Co. took over a space center support-services contract last year.

These employees — who write historical and technical documents, speeches and photo captions — are not considered essential to the launching. The space agency said the possibility of other unions honoring their picket lines was the main concern.

Gilligan to run again, seek spending curb

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan has affirmed his desire to seek reelection, urged party unity in a squabble over Democratic leadership and has promised to work for "a realistic ceiling" on campaign spending.

"Anybody in elective office who wants to see the policies that he has pursued endorsed by the people almost has to stand for re-election to get his report card stamped one way or the other," Gilligan said during a taped interview after a noon speech in Cleveland.

Gilligan declined to speculate on who the Republicans might nominate to run against him, but the governor indicated he hoped it wouldn't be former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

"Jim Rhodes is extremely popular in Ohio and has a great following in Ohio," he said.

Later Friday, addressing a small group of liberal Democrats in Cleveland, Gilligan said he will attend the Democratic governors' caucus in St. Louis today to urge that no immediate change be made in the leadership of the Democratic National Committee.

Present Chairwoman Jean Westwood is under fire from conservative elements of the party, and Gilligan indicated he would try to postpone any immediate action in order to find a compromise candidate for the position.

But Gilligan said he discounts the strength of Texan Robert Strauss' candidacy and criticized Strauss' close ties with John Connally, who spearheaded the "Democrats for Nixon" organization during the campaign.

Gilligan said Strauss' candidacy "may, among other things, represent a return from the dead of John Connally," but the Ohio governor said he doubted Strauss' claims of strength.

"The reports that Strauss has 18 of the 31 Democratic governors supporting him are grossly inaccurate," he said. "No way! There would be five at tops."

Gilligan said his proposed lid on campaign spending on all state races in Ohio would "come to grips with what is becoming an outrageous scandal in this country today."

"That is the unchecked pouring out of money into the political arena," he said. "It has reached proportions that I think threaten the very stability of our political system."

Damaged grain need not all be lost; feeding alternatives

Delayed harvest, caused by unfavorable weather conditions, is making many farmers consider alternative methods of handling corn and soybeans for livestock feed. Here are some recommendations from John R. Staubus, Extension Service dairy specialist at Ohio State University.

Feeding experiments indicate that mature corn silage is a desirable feedstuff for ruminants such as dairy and beef cattle. Although some dry matter losses occur with increasing maturity, the feeding value of mature corn silage is similar on a per-pound-of-dry-matter basis to normal corn silage.

Making mature corn silage, then, appears to be the best alternative for ruminant feeders to get the highest possible yield of nutrients per acre. This silage should be chopped finely but not pulverized. If cross-section slices of cobs appear in the silage material, the use of a recutter screen is desirable. Use the largest recutter screen that will break up the cross sections, but do not pulverize the chopped material in order to break every kernel of corn.

CORN BADLY damaged by stalk rot, cob rot, or mold on the kernels will not make good quality silage, but ensiling such corn will salvage more nutrients per acre than harvesting the crop as grain. The ensiling process will stop the growth of mold and will stabilize the feeding value of the material harvested.

Do not add urea or ammonia - containing additives to mature corn silage; however, you may add water to mature corn silage to reduce the dry matter percentage and increase the effectiveness of packing. Adding 200 pounds (25 gallons) of water per ton will reduce the dry matter percentage of chopped material by about 10 percent. Such a reduction of dry matter is most important near the top of the silo. Cold outside temperatures of late fall and early winter should prevent excessive spoilage.

Make mature corn silage from only those fields that were planted specifically for silage or from fields intended for grain but produced under condition recommended for corn silage. If the crop has been treated with pesticides, check with the county Extension Service to be sure those used will not cause measurable levels of residues when the whole plant is fed to the animals as silage.

IF RUMINANTS are to be turned into a field to graze unharvested corn or soybeans, be sure they become accustomed to the increased level of grain consumption slowly. One method is to feed extra grain in the barn or lot prior to turning the animals into the field.

A second possibility is to allow the animals to graze these fields only a short time each day for a period of two weeks. Animals that are suddenly allowed to consume grain free-choice may develop enterotoxemia (over-eating disease), founder, or simply go off feed due to eating too much grain.

Dairy and beef cattle seem to be less affected than most other species of animals by molds that develop on corn in the field. If the mold is sufficient to discourage eating, production will be reduced. Severe molding may reduce feeding value. This reduction in feeding value is impossible to judge in advance. It is unlikely that toxins that will affect ruminants will be produced by field molds.

Store harvested grain so as to prevent development of storage molds. Molds that develop during the storage period are more likely to produce toxins that will affect ruminants.

GOOD QUALITY, high-moisture corn can be preserved by ensiling or treatment with propionic acid or a combination of acetic and propionic acids. Follow the manufacturers' instructions. The acid treatment of high moisture corn is presently recommended only for whole-kernel, shelled corn. Neither acid treatment nor ensiling will destroy or inactivate toxins that develop prior to harvesting and treatment.

If cobs of ear corn are rotten, shell the corn prior to grinding and mixing with other feed ingredients for ruminant concentrate mixtures.

Soybeans meal, cottonseed meal, linseed meal, and urea may be used as sources of the crude protein equivalent needed in dairy and beef cattle rations. When attempting to make a price comparison on the three oil meals, a rough rule of thumb is to "calculate the price per pound of crude protein equivalents in the oil meals and purchase the one that supplies a pound of crude protein equivalent at the least cost." The county Extension Service can give more details on protein equivalents.

MOLDY, high-moisture soybeans should not be stored for use in the future as ruminant feed. Although field molds do not appear to produce toxins, some of the storage molds do produce very potent toxins. Poor quality beans are also likely to turn rancid. Feeding rancid beans may produce an oxidized flavor in milk and milk products.

Both normal and mature corn silages are low protein roughages. When feeding a low protein roughage, increase the crude protein percentage in the concentrate. Corn silage is also low in calcium and phosphorus.

The new Ohio Livestock Ration Evaluation Program, available through county Extension Service offices, provides a method for evaluating beef and dairy rations for dry matter, crude protein, TDN, and mineral levels. This program should be useful this year when dairy and beef feeding programs are likely to deviate considerably from those traditionally used.

Mature corn silage will have less vitamin A activity than normal corn silage. Vitamin A supplementation may be desirable during the present barn feeding season.

Down On The Farm

Saturday, Dec. 2,

Farm income tax calculation before year-end is important

It may pay you this year, more than ever, to do some farm income tax management before the year-end bell chimes. Cash basis taxpayers can make adjustments in sales and expenditures before the year ends to minimize income tax liability and maximize net farm income, says John E. Moore, Extension Service farm management economist at Ohio State University.

The Internal Revenue Service has indicated that farm returns will be checked more closely for prepaid accounts. It's important that you know the difference between a prepaid account and a purchase, Moore cautions.

Prepaid accounts are not deductible in the year of prepayment. However, for a cash basis taxpayer, a purchase is deductible when it is paid. The difference is only slight, but the consequences may be great.

A prepaid account is an advance payment on something you intend to use in your business. For example, if you go to your local fertilizer dealer and pay $2,000 on a future fertilizer bill, this is a prepaid account. But, if you purchase 20 tons of nitrogen fertilizer at $85 per ton and pay $1,700, this is a definite purchase and is deductible when it is paid. The difference is that you must make a definite purchase of a given product at a set price.

Some guidelines to distinguish between a prepaid account and a purchase are provided by Moore:

(1) If a definite quantity of product is bought at a set price, this constitutes a purchase deductible to a cash basis taxpayer when the purchase is made.

(2) There should be a purpose for the purchase other than reducing incomes taxes - for example, a quantity discount, seasonal price advantage, seasonal availability, to assure supply when needed, etc.

(3) The product must exist when it is purchased. A common example is a mixed ration in a commercial feedlot. Rations are mixed daily, so buying a large amount of a feedlot ration is not possible since it is not yet mixed or formulated and is not in existence at the time of purchase. This would (according to IRS) constitute a prepaid account and would not be deductible until the ration is mixed and fed.

This may seem like a fine line, but Moore suggests these guidelines should be considered when planning your income tax management strategies.

Ohio Farm Bureau backs soybean check-off move

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation will seek a special state-wide referendum on a check-off for the promotion of soybeans in foreign countries.

The Federation's Board of Trustees, in a meeting held immediately after the close of the organization's 1972 annual meeting in Columbus, unanimously passed a resolution calling for the referendum in which the state's thousands of soybean producers would vote on a proposal to deduct a specific amount for each bushel of soybeans sold.

Farm Bureau President Leonard Schnell urged a strong effort among all of Ohio agriculture in obtaining approval of the proposed check-off. "We have met with leaders of other farm organizations, such as the National Farmers Organization, Grange, National Farmers Union, Ohio Soybean Association, Ohio Feed and Grain Dealers Association and with officials of the Ohio Department of Agriculture. We feel that this is an area where all of Ohio agriculture can work together toward a common goal. Each of these groups has indicated an interest in working toward a soybean check-off."

Schnell said that the majority of the County Farm Bureaus suggested a 1/4 cent per bushel check-off with only a few wanting a 1/2 cent. Estimated production of soybeans in Ohio this year is 87 million bushels. At the 1/4 cent rate, about $220,000 would be raised in Ohio.

Under the Farm Bureau proposal, a majority of this money would have to be spent for administrative purposes and production research. More than 50 per cent of the U. S. soybean production has been sent to foreign markets in the past few years helping to correct an unfavorable balance of trade deficit," Schnell stated.

Schnell said Farm Bureau would begin work soon to prepare for the referendum sometime early in 1973.

Norman Schiering, of Fayette County, and Granville Chamberlain, of Clinton County, are members of the State Soybean Advisory Board.

Agricultural 'Economic Outlook' area conference here Dec. 14

The Fayette County Extension Service and 10-county Area Extension Service headquartered in Washington C. H. will sponsor an "Economic Outlook" conference Dec. 14 following dinner in the Country Club.

John Gruber, Fayette County Extension Service agent, and Jim Polson, the Area Extension Service farm management agent, coordinators of the meeting, said it is still too early to estimate how many will be there. However, farmers are expected to come from most, if not all, of the 10 counties covered by the Area Extension Service - Fayette, Clinton, Highland, Ross, Pickaway, Adams, Brown, Greene, Clark and Madison counties.

Two prominent Ohio agricultural economists, Dr. Herbert Hadley and Dr. Wallace Barr will give an up-to-the-minute analysis of the general economic outlook and its effect on agriculture. Their discussions will include the outlook for farm inputs (credit, fertilizer, feed, machinery etc.) and the outlook for farm products, such as swine, cattle, corn, soybeans, etc.

The program also is designed, Gruber and Polson said, to be of interest to agribusinessmen, who provide the materials and services to farmers and those who market farm products. Gruber and Polson said they hope, and expect, many businessmen who have an interest in agriculture and its future will attend the meeting.

Since the meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 5 p.m., Gruber and Polson said reservations must be made in advance with the county Extension Service office, phone 335-1150, by Dec. 8.

Another horse health hazard gives owners one more worry

Horse owners have had plenty to worry about since recent concern over Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE).

Even more recently the horse population has been suffering from another viral disease, EIA, Equine Infectious Anemia, says Dr. R.D. McQueen, University of Illinois Extension Service veterinarian.

EIA is an infectious, virus-caused disease that affects only horses, ponies, mules and donkeys. The disease is characterized by a variety of symptoms related to anemia, EIA in either its acute, subacute or chronic form, may end in death.

EIA has unfortunately been tagged "swamped fever," says McQueen. Although it may be endemic to areas with a large biting insect population, the disease is not restricted to swampy areas. The disease has been reported in 43 mainland states and most of the Canadian provinces.

UNTIL RECENTLY, there was no accurate way to diagnose the disease except by inoculating animals. On August 30, 1972, however, the U.S. Department of Agriculture declared the AGID ("Coggins") test the "official" EIA diagnostic test.

More than 30 laboratories in the U.S. are now certified by the USDA to conduct the test and actual prevalence of the disease will be better known in the future.

Symptoms of the acute form of EIA include a fever of 104 to 108 degrees, sudden onset and depressed appetite. An acute attack often ends in death within three to 14 days of infection.

The subacute form is most common of the clinical cases. Symptoms are similar to the acute form, but are not as severe and death seldom occurs.

Biting flies or mosquitoes and contaminated hypodermic needles and surgical instruments are the most common means of infection. And once a horse has been infected he carries the virus for life, regardless of the severity of symptoms, McQueen indicates.

Treatment of EIA is presently quite expensive and not highly successful. However, positive identification of all horses would be helpful in keeping track of EIA carriers, advises McQueen.

First of three swine health meetings here set Wednesday

The first of a series of three meetings on swine health will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the meeting room of the Landmark feed plant in the Industrial Park. The two subsequent meetings will be at the same time and place on Dec. 13 and Dec. 20.

County Extension Service Agent John Gruber said the meetings are designed to help Fayette County pork producers plug profit leaks through better health management. The discussions will be led by local veterinarians and members of the state, area and county Extension Service staffs.

Dr. R.D. Little, of Jeffersonville, will discuss general disease problems, including the importance of early detection, methods for disease prevention, treatment and elimination, at the first meeting Wednesday.

Dr. Earl Seaman, state district veterinarian, will discuss the recent hog cholera outbreak in Fayette County, the checks made on swine herds in the area and what was found through tests at the Dec. 13 session. David Gerber, swine industry specialist of the Area Extension Service, also will give pointers and methods for control of swine parasites at this meeting.

Four local veterinarians will take up four different hog diseases at the Dec. 20 meeting. Dr. Little will discuss Salmonellosis; Dr. D.E. Mossbarger will explain the symptoms and treatment for Colibacillosis; Dr. James McCoy will cover swine dysentery and Dr. Dick R. Junk will discuss non-infectious gut problems.

A registration fee of $2 is charged to cover the cost of the three-meeting series. Gruber said. A notebook of resource materials will be given to each participant.

Pork producers, who plan to attend the meetings, are to send their registrations and enrollment fees to the Extension Service office, 319 S. Fayette St., by Dec. 4. Gruber explained that the advance registration is requested to make certain reference materials and notebooks are available for everyone.

The series of meetings is a joint project of the Fayette County Pork Producers Association and county Extension Service.

Inbred cattle are inferior study by specialist shows

Inbreeding is not for the average dairyman, according to Extension Service dairy specialist Wallace Taylor at Ohio State University. It should be used only by the dairyman who will gain materially if he is successful and who can absorb the loss if he fails, he adds.

Taylor explains that great interest has been focused on the offspring resulting from inbreeding in human as well as animal populations. The offspring of related matings in humans often have lower resistance to diseases and higher frequencies of mental and physical defects, he says. The same results appear among animals, but with animal populations the complex emotional, social, and economic impact is not a factor as it is with the human population.

Studies at Cornell and throughout the world show a marked depression in milk production of those cows with related sire and dam. Genetically, it is not fully known how or why this occurs, says Taylor.

A drop of 800 to 1000 pounds of milk below that of herdmates can result if the sire and dam are as closely related as father and daughter. Cows with less closely related parents, for example those related as half-brother and sister, can have milk production depressed 500 pounds below that expected.

These are average figures, Taylor explains. The less closely related the parents, the less depression is expected.

Taylor warns that inbreeding can occur inadvertently through the use of artificial insemination. In many dairy cattle populations, the use of artificial insemination has made it possible for fewer bulls to sire tremendous numbers of offspring. After a generation or so the old bulls must be replaced. The young bulls selected as replacements often come from within the same dairy cattle population on which the older bulls were used. In such cases there is a possibility that the young bulls will be related to the older bulls.

However, it is well to remember that artificial insemination merely makes inbreeding possible, says Taylor, it does not create the situation.

USDA recommends more early potatoes

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends that growers of 1973 spring and early summer potatoes plant 5 per cent more acreage than in 1972.

This and other suggestions to help growers plan production to meet market needs, are made in "1973 Acreage Marketing Guides, Spring and Early Summer Potatoes." The guides, based on the prospective market situations, will be released in early December by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

USDA suggests a total spring planting in 1973 of 102,270 acres.

Six of the rivers born in the Colorado Rockies — the Rio Grande, Arkansas, Colorado, South Platte, North Platte and Republican — meander through a total of 19 other states on their trip to the ocean.

Milledgeville News Notes

GIRL SCOUTS MEET
Junior Girl Scout Troop 327 met at the Milledgeville School Tuesday evening.

Kathy Mathews served refreshments. The girls are continuing to work on the requirements for their "Indian Lore" badge. They made wrist bands from plastic and will paint designs on them later.

Each girl chose her "Indian" name and the group adjourned early so they could go to Washington C. H. and appear on a TV program.

Present were Quagheunne (Penny) Hanshell, Memequiluh Peshikthe (Patricia) Hixon and Cone (Kathy) Mathews and Mrs. Howard Hixon, the leader.

Mrs. Hixon extended an invitation to other girls in the community to join their troop. One member, Julie Crowe, has moved to Washington C. H.

BROWNIE TROOP
Brownie Troop 877 met at the Milledgeville school Tuesday evening. Brownie Gold was collected and songs were led by Sandra Lewis. Joan Kingery led the Pledge of Allegiance and Jodi Buck led the Brownie Promise.

Refreshments were served by Pam Herdman. Joan Kingery will serve refreshments next week.

Miss Kelley was in charge of craft period this week. The girls made beanbag-footballs. Mrs. Ancil Lewis will be in charge of craft next week. The girls drew names for the Christmas gift exchange.

Present were Sandra Lewis, Paula Fitzpatrick, Jodi Buck, Lisa Fitzpatrick, Pam Herdman, Debbie Peters, Ranae Anders, Joan Kingery, Julie Kingery and the leaders, Mrs. Sharon Peters and Mrs. Ancil Lewis assisting Mrs. Kelley. Guests were Mrs. Gary Herdman, Mrs. Fitzpatrick and son and Mrs. Kingery and daughter.

Crystal Haffner was absent and Tracy Crowe has moved to Washington C. H.

Crop Insurance claim for loss deadline Dec. 10

Continued rains and little of sunshine since before the start of the corn and soybean harvest season undoubtedly will result in an unusually large number of claims being paid to Fayette County farmers by the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., according to Earl Wilson, Service Center director for this area.

Wilson said many policy holders already have notified the Center that they have suffered losses. Many others, he said, feel a loss is probably and that they should notify the Center office, 27 1/2 S. Detroit St., Xenia, Ohio 45385, in writing by Dec. 10.

In the area served by this Center are Fayette, Fairfield, Greene, Madison, Montgomery and Pickaway counties.

The Federal Crop Insurance Corp. is an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which offers all-risk protection on farm crops. Coverage is provided against all unavoidable causes of loss resulting from adverse weather, insects and diseases which arise during the growing and harvesting season.

and Trent, of Leesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Struewing, of Lake Wood Hills; Mr. and Mrs. James Creamer, of Allensburg; Mr. and Mrs. James Creamer and children, David and Lisa, of Bowersville; Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Whitaker and son, Jon, of London; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dean Whitaker and Casey, of London; Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Adams and Kara Beth, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Speakman and children, Tracy and Andrea, of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford and son, Scotty, of New Richmond; Mrs. Dorothy Creamer and Carla Kay, of Columbus; Randy Creamer, of Grayson, Ky., and Miss Sue Ann McCoy of Washington C. H.; and Mr. Doug Elsworth, of Xenia.

MOVE TO NEW HOMES
Mr. and Mrs. Billy Creamer and son, Jeffrey, have moved from Blanchester to Rt. 4, Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Howard and daughter, Dawn, have moved from New Antioch to Mount Carmel, Cincinnati, where Mr. Howard will be the pastor of the Clough Heights Church of Christ.

PERSONALS
Larry Arehart spent a few days visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arehart.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Yahn and children, Keith and Jerri, were Thanksgiving eve supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ankrom and daughter, Wanda.

Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Morgan were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas.

Canada and the ceasefire

It is not wholly unwelcome news that the Canadian government is being standoffish about joining a Vietnam ceasefire supervisory commission until certain conditions are met. Though this runs counter to Washington's desire to have the commission firmly established at the time a ceasefire takes effect, there is much to be said for the Canadian position.

It is a position based on experience. Having served as a member of the International Control Commission established by the 1954 Geneva Conference, Canada knows very well that such a supervisory body can be all but useless. The Control Commission was hampered by certain restrictions which, in retrospect, appear simply foolish. No individual member of the Commission could report its findings without the concurrence of the others, and no outside group was designated to receive reports; in consequence, the Commission had no one but the involved parties to report to when it found violations of the agreement.

Canada is now reported, though not yet officially, to be saying in effect that if it is to serve on the four-nation supervisory commission it wants the following things: the right to report its findings independently, unhampered mobility in the ceasefire area, assurances that all four combatant parties want Canada as a commission member, and lastly a guarantee that reports will be heard by the United Nations or some other international body.

These are not at all unreasonable conditions. On the contrary, unless they are embodied in the agreement the commission will have very little prospect of being an effective guarantor of the ceasefire.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Freedom of information landmark

WASHINGTON — Since that day in June of 1971, when he was booked in federal court for violation of the Espionage Act, Daniel Ellsberg, a hitherto little known scholar and researcher, has been a public figure.

With the resumption shortly of his trial over his revelation of the Pentagon papers he promises to become one of the celebrated causes in the long record of the conflict between organized power and the individual.

His principal lawyer, Leonard Boudin, believes the trial in Los Angeles will last from three to four months. When it first began four months ago, a defense motion charged that government use of wiretapping in collecting evidence was reason for the judge to declare a mistrial. Rejected in the lower jurisdiction, the United States Supreme Court declined to review the allegation.

Behind all the legal technicalities in the mass of documents already put together is a fundamental question: Did the public have the right to know the full and unedited story of the Vietnam war contained in the 47 volumes of the Pentagon papers? That is Ellsberg's contention, to be argued by his battery of seven lawyers with the support of numerous witnesses.

HE HAD himself helped to prepare the report. It was still a classified document when he removed it from the locked files of the Rand Corp. in California where he was working at the time. With publication initiated by a half-dozen newspapers, the revelations of duplicity, double-dealing and downright falsehood caused an immense sensation.

An attempt by the Administration to enjoin printing of the documents was rejected by the Supreme Court in a 6-to-3 vote.

The Espionage Act provides imprisonment up to 10 years and a $10,000 fine for unauthorized possession of information which "the possessor has reason to believe could be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of any foreign nation." On the allegation of injury to the United States the prosecution will put great emphasis.

Boudin has collected the indictments in every previous espionage case and they show, with one exception, that they were based on passing information to a Soviet agent.

A series of coincidences that the defense believes to have been far from accidental saw Ellsberg booked on the Friday before the Saturday decision of the Supreme Court and indicated on the following Monday. Boudin believes this was deliberately planned to put the stigma of a crime on an issue that previously had seemed to be related to freedom of information and the right to print.

WHAT THROWS a special light on the Ellsberg case is that it comes at a time when freedom of information, the right to know, is threatened in various areas. Newspapersmen have been jailed for refusing to divulge the confidential sources of their information, and a second case directly related to the Pentagon papers shows the widening spread of government authority over the journalist and now the scholar.

Because he refused to answer certain questions before a grand jury, although he had testified for 10 hours, Harvard Prof. Samuel L. Popkin was seized, handcuffed and jailed in Boston. He was to stay in jail until the term of the

Theocracy in Manila

President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines has reverted to an ancient governmental technique which has largely fallen into disuse in these latter days. The prevalence of skepticism makes it unlikely that his method will be widely emulated, in the capitals of the world, but it is interesting.

God was very accommodating, Marcos told the Philippine Historical Society, when the question whether to declare martial law was recently put to Him: "I asked for a sign and He gave me several signs. I told myself if this occurs, I will immediately order martial law . . . and it did occur."

This exercise in theocracy suggests that running a government could be a lot easier than most rulers find it to be. The trick would be to read the signs aright and be sure you were not simply doing what you intended to do anyway.

GENTLEMEN: We sympathize with you in experiencing two fair-sized snowfalls in one week. But, both snowfalls were handled very efficiently by your men in the city, county and state highway and street departments. ## Pentagon reports admits blacks denied equal justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Pentagon report acknowledges that black members of the Armed Forces don't get a fair shake when compared with how the military justice system treats whites.

Among other things, it found company commanders hand out tougher punishments for blacks than for whites accused of minor violations of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

Prepared by a 14-member biracial task force, the study recommends that racial discrimination itself be punished within the military justice system.

The panel, releasing its report Thursday, called for such steps as standardized punishment for minor offenses and recruitment of more black military lawyers. It suggested that helmets be redesigned to conform to modern hair styles, such as the afro favored by many blacks.

"The military system does discriminate against its members on the basis of race and ethnic background," the study said. "The discrimination is sometimes purposeful; more often it is not."

"Indeed, it often occurs against the dictates not only in policy but in the face of determined efforts of commanders, staff personnel and dedicated service men and women."

In all, the four-volume study of how the military administers the Uniform

Code of Military Justice contained more than 100 recommendations.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, noting "justice and discipline are inseparable and indispensable," said many of the proposed changes are being put into effect while others are under consideration.

Scores of GIs were interviewed by the task force which said it found that where military justice was unfairly administered there was also "racial animosity and tension."

Women's Interests

Saturday, Dec. 2

Washington C.H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 6

FEMININE FROTH of tucking and lace dresses up tuxedo shirt, left. At right, matte crepe concoction with high rise neckline and deep front yoke of lace.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

To get through the holiday season of social events, a girl needs a wardrobe as extensive as a movie star's. It sounds costly but needn't be! The way to look festive and fashionable at minimum cost is to buy yourself a long evening skirt or a pair of smashing new palazzo pants — great for at-home or going out — plus several eye-catching dress-up blouses. It's major fashion coverage, but at minimum cost!

Some of the most glamorous blouses in the latest Lady Manhattan collection are lace-trimmed. A group called Crepe Suzettes is frankly styled for femme fatales. There's something delightfully demure about these white blouses. They have that I-enjoy-being-a girl look men find hard to resist. The lace is used in a variety of ways. On one blouse it makes striped panels. On another, it's used for the yoke. A third has lace sleeves.

The great thing about these lace-trimmed blouse beauties is their easy-care virtues. Made of 100 per cent polyester, they are cinchy to wash — and washability is something that's absolutely essential for a white blouse. Another asset: The polyester has a subtle, sexy clinging quality.

But lacey blouses aren't the only knockout tops in the Lady Manhattan line. If you like sparkle plenty there are silver and black blouses with self stripes of glittering Lurex that are real dazzlers. Look, too, for blouses in that looks-and-feels-like silk wonder fabric, Ultrassa. It is a good traveler if the holiday will find you tripping off to visit the family or heading for a sun spot.

Incidentally, a great way to go when you travel is in a pant outfit topped off with a crisply man-tailored, wash-and-wear shirt.

Members of the Town and Country Garden Club met in the Bloomingburg Town Hall. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Alvin Armintrout.

It was announced that the annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 20 at 6 p.m. at the Terrace Lounge and will feature a $2 gift exchange. Mrs. Earl Hartley, the guest speaker, will show slides and talk about her recent trip to Europe and the Scandinavian countries. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Armintrout before Dec. 13.

Following the business meeting, the program chairman, Mrs. Lee Cleland, introduced Mrs. Gilbert Biddle, who showed many items she had made for the Christmas season and demonstrated the techniques used in making some of them. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Armintrout and Mrs. Cleland.

Betty Crocker search for 'homemaker'

College scholarships totaling $111,000 will be at stake Tuesday when seniors in Miami Trace and Washington Senior high schools here and throughout the country join in the written knowledge and attitude examination of the 1973 Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow. This year, for the first time in the 19-year history of the educational program, boys are eligible to participate.

Score on the 50-minute test will form the basis for selection of a Homemaker of Tomorrow for each of the participating schools here. These students will receive specially designed awards from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search, and will, together with all other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow — one from each state and the District of Columbia — will be awarded $1,500 scholarships. To be chosen in judging centering on performance in the written examination, they will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of Britannica," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants. Late next April, the 51 State Homemakers of Tomorrow, each accompanied by a faculty adviser, will gather in Washington, D. C., for an expense - paid educational tour of the capital city and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Personal observation and interviews during the tour will be added factors in the selection, from the state winners, of the 1973 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships of the four national winners will be increased to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

A $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship, instituted in last year's Betty Crocker Search, will be part of the program again this year. Recipient of this award will be the participating student who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, ranks among the highest in his or her state on the total Search examination and, from those meeting these two criteria, achieves the top score on the test's nutrition items.

About nine million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2 million.

The Search examination is prepared and graded by Science Research Associates, Chicago, which is also responsible for all judging and selection of winners.

Dear Abby:

Christmas cards -
a matter of choice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Last year I told my mother-in-law that sending Christmas cards was such a bother I wasn't going to send any the next year.
She said, "You HAVE to! It it's too much bother, just send them to MY side of the family."
I told her that if I sent cards to just HER side, it would appear that I cared less for MY side, so I was just going to skip the whole thing. Perhaps I should mention that my husband agrees with my point of view.
Well, I have just received a big box of Christmas cards with my husband's name and my name printed on them. It was a GIFT from my mother-in-law with a note, "Just send these cards to MY side of the family, or I won't be able to face them."
Abby, what am I supposed to do? I am 34 years old and don't want this nervy woman making my decisions for me.

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: Thank your mother-in-law for the cards, and do as you please. And tell her she need not feel "embarrassed" because mature people do not hold parents responsible for the acts (or omissions) of their grown off-spring.

DEAR ABBY: After reading so much in the newspapers about VD, abortions, and battered children who weren't wanted, I had to write this letter.
If all parents who cared about their children would forbid them from going steady when they're too young to know anything, there wouldn't be those problems.

When two kids see each other morning, noon, and night for months and years, there is no way they can keep from becoming intimate. After a while the handholding and kissing gets stale, and they think they are "in love."
I'm 18, and have a baby 1 month old because I was afraid to have an abortion. Yes, we had to get married, so I guess I'm an expert on the subject. If my parents had done their job as parents should, and told me the pitfalls of a steady boy friend, and forbade me to go steady, I might have a nice job now, meeting lots of nice people and having some fun. Or maybe going to college like some of my friends.

But instead, I'm changing diapers, cleaning, and cooking and ironing because I started going steady when I was 16 years old.

I am not proud of this.
I was one of the thousands of kids who thought it couldn't happen to me. Abby, just keep telling parents to do their job, and not to let their kids give them a snow job about what "everybody else" is doing.

BEEN THERE
DEAR BEEN: You paid dearly for your lesson. Let's hope others will benefit from your experience.

DEAR ABBY: I can certainly sympathize with "Sleepy Time Gal" whose husband said, "No love until after Johnny Carson."

Ever since television, right after supper my husband turns on the set and he stays up to watch it until he is worn out. He even watches reruns of reruns!

If I talk to him while he's watching, he shushes me and says, "Wait until the commercials."

I hate to be a nag but I would like a little conversation in the evenings. Thank the good Lord we didn't have television when we were newlyweds or I'm sure we'd never have been blessed with the five wonderful children we have today.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Saturday, Dec. 2, the 337th day of 1972. There are 29 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1823, President James Monroe outlined the Monroe Doctrine against European expansion in the Western Hemisphere.
On this date:

In 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte crowned himself Emperor of France.

In 1805, the armies of Napoleon were victorious in the Battle of Austerlitz in what is now Czechoslovakia.

In 1942, a nuclear chain reaction was demonstrated for the first time by scientists working on a secret project at the University of Chicago.

In 1956, Fidel Castro and a band of followers landed in Cuba to try to overthrow the Batista government.

In 1960, the Archbishop of Canterbury visited Pope John at the Vatican. It was the first time in more than 500 years that the head of the Anglican Church had visited a Pope.

In 1964, Juan Peron was detained in Brazil as he tried to return to Argentina.

Ten years ago: Portugal's Premier Antonio de Oliveira reshuffled his Cabinet and resigned as defense chief.

Five years ago: The head of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, died at the age of 78.

One year ago: A state of emergency was declared in Chile after a night of violence triggered by a women's demonstration against food shortages.

Today's birthdays: Actress Julie Harris is 47. Actress Maggie Smith is 38.

Thought for today: There's nothing smart about winning a girl. Shaking one is the real test—Kin Hubbard, American humorist, 1868-1930.

Free 'grass' voted down

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A plan to use student funds to buy large quantities of marijuana and distribute it free on the University of Michigan campus has been narrowly rejected by the student government.

Some $2,500 in student funds would have been allotted to a Student Dope Cooperative under a proposal authored by Student Government Council representative Dave Hornstein. The plan was part of his successful election campaign this fall.

The dope co-op lost Thursday night on a 6-6 tie, with council President Bill Jacobs casting the deciding ballot against the plan.

Two students promptly started a campaign to recall Jacobs.

At one point in the deliberations, a council member suggested the plan be "referred" back to committee for further consideration.

The council receives some $90,000 annually from a special assessment collected by the University as part of tuition.

Lions, MT open SCOL fireworks with wins

Rebounding, defense ignite WCH triumph

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Washington C.H.'s hustling Blue Lions, capitalizing on rebounding strength and a balanced scoring performance in which four players landed double digit totals, paddled Greenfield McClain 85-67 in the opening of South Central Ohio League fireworks Friday night under the WSHS ratters.

A spunky man-to-man defense, which featured full-court pressure throughout the contest and a classy run-and-gun offensive barrage were also keys in Washington C.H.'s second straight win of the campaign and first in the 45th SCOL cage bash.

Head coach Gary Shaffer's defensively-solid Lions, now 2-1 on the season, completely dominated the pint-sized Greenfield team, mostly on the basis of a whopping total of 45 rebounds.

JOE DOWNS, a smooth-shooting 6-foot-1 senior forward, spearheaded the balanced scoring performance with seven field goals and three free throws for 17 points, before being sidelined late in the contest with the maximum number of personal fouls.

Downs, who was instrumental in the Lions' spree early in the game, received plenty of scoring help from slick senior Chuck Bath who bagged 15 points and junior Jeff Wallace, who bounced off the bench late in the opening period, and senior Dick Witherspoon. Wallace and Witherspoon canned 14 points each.

Greenfield, which suffered in second setback in as many outings this season, received nifty 16-point scoring from senior hotshot Buddy Kennedy, while forward Larry Crabtree and slender senior sub George Hamilton chipped in with 15 and 13 points, respectively.

THE PESKY Lion defense had Greenfield puzzled in the opening minutes until the Tiger offense, which looked as if it were designed for Kennedy, freed the speedy 5-foot-8 senior. Kennedy's scoring gave Greenfield a shortlived 5-4 lead in the opening moments, but the Highland Countians were never able to come with 10 points after the Lions got their run-and-gun tactic operating.

In the second period, the Lions started controlling the boards more effectively at both ends of the court and coupled this factor with being able to solve a Greenfield press to ignite the fast break.

Behind the efforts of Kennedy and Hamilton, the purple and gold clad cagers slowly, but steadily pecked away at Washington C. H.'s mounting advantage.

Seniors Chris Shaper and Albert Donahue, the Blue Lion playmakers who contributed 18 points between them, starting taking advantage of enemy miscues in the third period as Washington C.H. zipped to a hefty 22-point lead and even a half-court trapping press employed by head coach Sam Snyder was unable to dull the quick-scoring Lions.

Substitutes and three technical fouls dominated the fourth quarter which saw Greenfield slice the Lion bulge to 13 points before some late scorework sealed the win.

DOWNS AND Kennedy locked horns in a see-saw scoring battle in the opening frame. Downs netted 10 of the Lions' first 21 markers before leaving with foul troubles while Kennedy accounted for eight of Greenfield's first 10 points, but Washington C.H. zipped to a commanding 23-10 first quarter lead.

Wallace, who had replaced Downs, popped in eight of Washington C.H.'s first 10 points in the second stanza with some crafty inside work and the Lions notched 13 points for a 36-26 halftime margin.

The Lions, who connected on 34 of 85 shots from the floor (41 per cent) on the

Lion reserves notch second

Washington C. H.'s reserve team, behind a balanced scoring effort in which a total of 13 players dented the column, registered their second straight win of the season by downing Greenfield 59-40 Friday night in the Blue Lion gym.

Mark Essman's 10-point performance guided the win for Coach John Skinner's Blue Lion charges to their second victory in three starts while the Greenfield bunch suffered its second consecutive setback.

Guards Jim Vess and Mark Johnson provided ample backing with eight points apiece and Frank Riley hooped seven in the SCOL opener.

SKINNER employed a full-court press which had Greenfield stymied through the opening period when the Lions rushed to a 21-9 bulge. The Lions continued to build their lead with 12 markers in the second frame for a 33-20 intermission advantage. In the third period the Lion reserves moved to a 47-32 spread with 14 points and capped the win with 12 markers in the final canto.

Bill Flynn, a 5-foot-9 sophomore, topped the scoring attack for Coach Bob Patton's Tigers with 14 points.

evening, found a hot hand in the third quarter which mustered 25 points and 61-41 lead heading into the final canto.

Curtis Carmen kept Greenfield's hopes alive in the final period as he scored four quick points before a technical foul on the Tiger bench and an ensuing technical foul on a Greenfield player turned the fourth quarter into a ho-hum ordeal.

The Lions were also pegged with a technical foul, but scored 24 points to climax the win.

SCOL standings in three-way deadlock

Circleville flips 'Cane

WILMINGTON — Washington C.H., Miami Trace and always-tough Circleville emerged as early leaders in the 45th South Central Ohio League basketball pennant chase.

Washington C.H.'s Blue Lions, receiving double figure scoring from a quartet of players, whipped defending SCOL champion Greenfield McClain 85-67; Miami Trace's Panthers, with senior shotsmith Pete Jones bagging 26 points, thumped Hillsboro by a 81-57 count, and the Circleville Tigers downed an improved Wilmington team 61-47 in SCOL wars Friday.

Washington C.H. and Miami Trace, pre-season SCOL co-favorites, and Circleville are lodged atop the SCOL ranks with identical 1-0 records

trample Knicks, 100-74

Oscar Robertson reached a milestone...and Kareem AbdulJabbar reached up, over and around the New York Knicks.

With Robertson scoring 19 points and attaining the 25,000 career point total and AbdulJabbar pouring in 40 points, grabbing 16 rebounds, handing out seven assists and blocking three shots, the Milwaukee Bucks humiliated the Knicks 100-74 Friday night and avenged their most embarrassing setback of the National Basketball Association season.

In other NBA games, Detroit shaded Cleveland 114-113, Phoenix topped Golden State 115-106, Chicago beat Kansas City Omaha 106-97 in overtime, Atlanta defeated Los Angeles 114-109 in overtime, Boston downed Philadelphia 105-99 and Baltimore whipped Houston 103-96.

In the American Basketball Association, it was: Carolina 103, New York 99; Kentucky 127, Memphis 107, and Dallas 123, Indiana 117.

Cleveland's Lenny Wilkens also reached a milestone, becoming the 16th NBA player to score 15,000 points when he sank two free throws in the second period against Detroit, but the Pistons edged the Cavaliers on Stu Lantz' foul shot with three seconds left. Detroit's Dave Bing led all scorers with 37 points.

Connie Hawkins, playing aroused basketball following a controversy last week with Phoenix Coach Jerry Colangelo, scored a season-high 32 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and had 10 assists for the Suns. Golden State's Nate Thurmond also had 32 points.

Annual baseball meet ends

HONOLULU (AP) — The 71st annual winter baseball meetings went out swinging Friday.

Dealing like there was no tomorrow — which there wasn't — several teams squeezed under the inter-league midnight trading deadline and made a big score.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Cleveland Indians ignited the trading explosion with a four-player deal.

The Phillies shipped outfielders Roger Freed and Oscar Gamble to the Indians for outfielder Del Unser and third baseman Terry Wadsworth.

heading into next week actions which sends the Blue Lions to Wilmington, the Panthers to Greenfield and Hillsboro to Circleville.

DAVE TRUEX, Circleville's slick-shooting senior forward, paced a four-pronged double figure scoring effort as head coach John Lawhorn's Tigers registered their second straight win of the season.

Truex, the All-SCOL gem, canned 16 points on the basis of eight field goals and received ample backing from senior smoothie Dan Graham (15), Robin Martin (14) and Greg Hoskins (10).

Junior ace Bill McClary topped the scoring attack for Wilmington's Hurryin' Hurricane which suffered its

Howsam says Reds gained needed power

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds General Manager Bob Howsam says he got what he wanted during player trades at baseball's winter meetings in Honolulu, Hawaii.

In the trade Friday with the Kansas City Royals, Cincinnati acquired switchhitting outfielder Richie Scheinblum and righthand pitcher Roger Nelson for pitcher Wayne Simpson and reserve outfielder Hal McRae.

Howsam, in a statement issued through the Cincinnati Reds office said that Nelson was "the key to the trade." He said that in giving up McRae as well as Simpson, the Reds had to get Scheinblum before completing the deal.

Simpson, in Puerto Rico, and McRae in Venezuela, both playing winter ball, were not immediately available for comment.

McRae, 26, hit .278 for the National League Champion Reds in 197 but rode the bench most of the season.

Simpson, 23, never regained his peak after suffering a shoulder injury in Duncan to the Baltimore Orioles for pitchers Pat Dobson and Roric Harrison, second baseman Dave Johnson and catcher Johnny Oates.

—The Indians obtained second baseman Tom Ragland from the Rangers for pitcher Vince Colbert.

Later one minute before the midnight deadline the Detroit Tigers bought Rich Reese from the Minnesota Twins for the final deal of the wild day.

Friday's crush topped off a record week of trading activity that produced 20 deals involving 69 players. Only three of the 24 major league teams failed to complete a trade—the Boston Red Sox, Milwaukee Brewers and Montreal Expos.

Pete Jones' 26-point spree lifts Panthers

By ED SUMMERS

Miami Trace opened their 1972-73 South Central Ohio League campaign with a solid 81-57 victory over the Hillsboro Indians Friday night on the Panther hardwood.

The Panthers took advantage of 33 Indian turnovers as they rolled to their second victory of the season against one loss.

Pete Jones turned in an outstanding performance, leading Miami Trace in scoring with 26 points on 11 buckets and four charity tosses, and rebounding with 13.

Dave Persinger and Muff Jones both added 18 points to the Panthers cause and pulled down 10 and eight rebounds respectively. Muff also played an excellent defensive game against Indian standout Don Jewett, allowing him just 13 points.

QUICK-HANDED Glenn Gifford, starting his first game of the season, came up with five steals in a good defensive effort. Jeff Spears, the other Panther guard, injured a knee early in the first period, but later returned to the game.

Both teams switched defenses throughout the game with Hillsboro employing a half-court zone press most of the game. The Panthers also pressed full court and forced the Indians into several bad passes and turnovers.

Muff Jones tipped in a missed shot to give the Panthers a 2-0 lead from which they were never headed. Some fine offensive rebounding by the Jones brothers and Persinger helped the Panthers to a 19-14 first quarter lead.

Pete Jones and Persinger both tossed in eight points during the second canto as Miami Trace began to pull away from the Indians. Jewett picked up this third personal foul midway through the period and was sidelined until after the half.

THE PANTHERS scored 10 straight points in just over a minute at the start of the period to take a commanding 31-17 lead. Hillsboro could cut only one point off the Miami Trace margin and the scoreboard read 41-28 at halftime.

Jewett picked up his fourth foul with 5:56 remaining in the third quarter as he fought for a loose ball and was removed from the game. The Indians, however, managed to stay within range of the Panthers as they capitalized on three one-and-one free throw situations and several Miami Trace miscues.

Kevin Bailey tossed in a layup shot in the final seconds of the quarter to bring the Tribe within 10 points, 55-45.

The Panthers fast break finally began clicking as they built up a 20-point lead, 69-49, midway through the fourth period. Miami Trace continued to add to the lead as Coach Jan Stauffer emptied his bench in the remaining minutes of play.

GUARD KEVIN Bailey led the Hillsboro attack with 15 markers followed by Jewett with 13 and Mike Vance with 10.

The Panthers as a team hit 36 of 89 shots for 40.3 per cent, their best performance of the season, while the Indians were hitting on 21 of 54 for 39 per cent.

Miami Trace also out rebounded Hillsboro 43 to 39, and made only 16 miscues.

The Panthers will have the weekend off as they prepare for next Friday's game against defending SCOL champion Greenfield McClain.

MT jayvees suffer loss

A near miraculous second half comeback effort by the Miami Trace reserves fell short Friday night as they lost their first game of the season to Hillsboro, 42-39.

The Panthers were behind 32-10 with 3:56 remaining in the third period when they suddenly caught fire. They outscored the Indians 29-10 in the remaining 11 minutes of play but Hillsboro capitalized on five free throws in the last minute to hang on to the lead, and the victory.

The Panther comeback was sparked by Phil Skinner and Jim Glass as the Miami Trace defense forced the Indians into numerous bad passes and turnovers during the amazing comeback effort.

Jay Mossbarger, Skinner and Glass all threw in 10 points to lead Miami Trace in the losing effort. Tim Burns tossed in 12 and Jewett and Sharkey added nine apiece to lead the Indians.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, DEC. 3

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

On a second look at this day's program, you may recognize new dimensions, more opportunities for achievement. So take that second, and more thorough, look.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

There may be some delays or interruptions in your schedule, but an alert and busy mind like yours should help to eliminate the distractions.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Avoid actions which could tip the scales the wrong way. Your instincts and intuition should help you. Concentrate upon worthwhile endeavors only.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Lunar aspects not entirely friendly. Much will depend upon your adaptability, willingness to alter schedules, revise plans, etc. Don't follow false leads.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Especially favored now: conferences, making plans for the future, pursuits which stimulate the intellect.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

If pleasure-bent, shun risks, unwise involvements. If busy at work, follow a system that will not overtax you. Easy does it!

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Discretion should be your watchword now. Keep disposition even if you'd cope with the ruffled ones you meet — and there may be several. Stress that Libran poise of yours!

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Note Libra. Your advice similar. Put yourself in the position of mediator, peacemaker, and you can win new laurels. Your intuition should be at a peak now.

SAGITTARIUS

Neither charge with great force nor sit back doing nothing, in the hope that you'll win over the opposition of others. The innate good judgment of the Sagittarian should show you the way.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A day to test your judgment. Take up the reins where others slacken, renovate, rehabilitate where you can. Lend your fine constructive talents freely.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Without giving up present undertakings, study what are possibly good new offerings. Give careful thought to decisions you must make soon. Outcomes could be extremely important to the future.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Direct your enthusiasm for worthy causes into progressive channels. You may have to revise previous plans, however. Especially favored now: Travel, social interests.

YOU BORN TODAY have been blessed with a high order of intellect and a truly brilliant imagination. Your ideas are always ingenious and you have the practicality needed to carry them out — a tremendous asset to any career. Endowed with quickness of perception and discriminating taste, you would make an outstanding literary or dramatic critic. In fact, you have a keen sense of drama yourself and, with your gift for brilliant writing, could shine as a playwright. This flair for drama would also be evident in a courtroom should you embrace a career as a trial lawyer. Other fields in which you could excel: Music, science (especially in engineering or chemistry), painting, journalism and finance.

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Put everything in proper order, lest the day become chaotic. There are many advantages for the seeking Science and research slated for advancement.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Venus stimulates your artistry now; especially encourages those in the decorating, gardening and entertainment fields. Romance also under good influences.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You can accomplish much now, but planetary influences do not promise immediate results. Hold the line against misstatements, exaggeration, pretense.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Fine influences! You should have a most successful day. Especially favored: banking, investments, consolidations, research, chemistry, medicine.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Your individual touch, the right word at the right moment could mean the difference between a so-so day and a topflight one. Many opportunities for advancement.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

By no means, discount the "little things," for through these you can often attain your most worthwhile achievements. Study new trends, suggestions; be practical.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Be careful, even in routine matters—especially those requiring accuracy, consistent attention. Thoughtful moves now will hasten your ultimate rewards.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

While your planetary influences are fairly generous, persons born under certain Signs may be touchy. Realize this, and make up your mind not to be annoyed.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You are not always sure of how others regard you. This could interfere with the presentation of your case of wares. A confident attitude is the answer.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Mixed influences. Organize talents and know-how to promote your interests more efficiently. Translate good ideas into working processes. Romance favored.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

It may require some extra patience to get going now, but once you get on the proper footing, there will be no limit to the gains you can achieve.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

You may face some resistance, obstacles you had not anticipated. But you can find ways to skirt them. Mostly, it will depend upon your perception and good reasoning.

YOU BORN TODAY are a volatile, freedom-loving individual endowed with a keenly analytical mind, exceptionally good judgment and a warmly outgoing personality. At heart, you are restless, don't like to be "fenced in" but, if striving for an objective, will pursue it with tenacity, even ploddingly, disregarding more personal desires. Travel, sports and the theater are the areas in which you are most likely to seek relaxation but, as a career, you are more inclined to choose — and succeed at — music, science, business administration, the law, sculpture or journalism.

Nugget from Gold Rush highlights Old West Show

By DONALD SANDERS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution has just opened a new exhibition recalling the pioneer spirit of the Old West—claim grabbers, hustlers, rustlers, prospectors and one of the gold nuggets which touched off the California gold rush.

The gold nugget, one of the highlights of the show, was found by James Marshall at Capt. James Sutter's sawmill at Coloma, Calif., in 1848—the discovery that set off the cry of "gold" and led to one of the greatest mass migrations and treasure hunts in U.S. history.

Marshall presented the lump of gold to Washington's National Institute—later assimilated by the Smithsonian, which has mounted the new exhibit in the hall of everyday life in America in the Museum of History and Technology.

The show depicts the timeless legends of cowboys, goldminers and early settlers of the West. As the Smithsonian notes, much of the period is recalled in cliches which may or may not be valid—the Hollywood and television stories of mountain men and Indians, Custer's last stand, stagecoach holdups, homesteaders and gold rushers.

Because the men and women who settled the West were always on the move, they usually carried their possessions with them, building rapidly and flimsily, giving rise to waste and

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Attention, Football Players!

Every time a quarterback gets "caught in the pocket" before throwing a forward pass, his unheard "ouch" sends chills down my medical spine.

How the knees, elbows, back, spine, and muscles withstand the pounding punishment is a never-ending source of wonder. New knees for the old, weary and broken ones is the ultimate prayer of a quarterback. Now that prayer seems to have been answered. More than 350 total knee replacements have been performed at the Mayo Clinic.

Dr. Joseph J. Combs and his colleagues reported the use of an artificial knee. The one being tested was devised by Dr. Frank Gunston, of Winnipeg, Canada, an engineer who has made this valuable contribution to the surgeons who are replacing painful and functionless knees with this artificial device.

Although the surgery is still considered experimental, the results seem excellent, the complications few, and the possibilities great.

The Gunston knee may yet also be used for severe incapacitating arthritis, in addition to its use following injuries. The possibility is great that this artificial joint may lead to variations for other joints in the body.

ULCERS of the skin of the legs and feet are a dangerous complication in inadequate blood circulation. Many techniques are used in an effort to heal these ulcerations, or breaks, in the skin. Not all are successful, and the progress of these ulcers is a threat to the health of affected patients.

At the University of Missouri Medical Center, an electrical device has been created by Walter R. Gault. With it, small amounts of electric current are directed to these skin ulcers in an effort to improve the healing of the ulcers.

Dr. Lester E. Wolcott and Dr. Paul C. Wheeler are using this form of treatment which already is significant in the control of these persistent and troublesome ulcers.

It seems that this type of electrotherapy does increase the blood circulation around the ulcer.

In addition, it may play a role in combating some of the germs which complicate the ulcers.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: The sniffing of glue seems to have been taken off the front pages of newspapers. It is still a hazard that must be considered, especially since so many children are involved in the making of model planes, trains, and automobiles. Glue sniffing creeps up slowly.

obsolence.

An illustration of this is the false front of Gamboni's butcher shop from Olema, Calif., dating from about 1890. Like many other storefronts of the period, it could be clapped against a shed or similar structure to provide an air of elegance with its trim of carpentered gothic. It could also be packed up and moved on, leaving another ghost town.

Other memorabilia in the exhibition are several cattle brands, horseshoes specially made for trudging through the swamps along the Sacramento River, stoneware jugs, crooks and churns, and a tobacco store said to have been carved by a German miner to earn his fare back home.

Prints, engravings and a papier mache snuffbox show scenes of gold mining, buffalo hunting and a hanging of two men by vigilantes in San Francisco.

Representing the Russian colonization of Alaska and the West Coast, there are a copper kettle used by fur traders, fragments of a Russian eagle found at Sullivan's Island in the Columbia River and a chain mail shirt worn by Alexander Baranoff, first governor of Alaska in 1799 as protection against Indian assaults.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
4 ♣	4 ♠	5 ♣	5 ♦
6 ♣	6 ♠	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	7 ♣	Pass
Pass	7 ♣	Pass	Pass

Opening lead - king of clubs. This wild and woolly hand occurred in a regional team of four championship. At the first table, South got to seven spades on the bidding shown. Had West led a heart, the grand slam would have failed, but he led a club and declarer easily made all the tricks - scoring 2,210 points.

At the second table, the bidding went:

East	South	West	North
5 ♣	5 ♠	6 ♣	6 ♠
7 ♣	Dble

The South player at this table, gazing at two club losers, could not afford to invite a grand slam by making a forcing pass, and he therefore doubled seven clubs. He had not received the benefit of a diamond bid from North, and he had no particular reason to think his side had a good shot at a grand slam.

Still less did it occur to South that his opponents might make a grand slam, and, in a misguided effort to play safe, he led the ace of hearts.

This lead proved highly disastrous when East ruffed the ace, entered dummy with a trump, ruffed another heart, returned to dummy with another trump, and discarded all four of his losers on the K-Q-8-6 of hearts. Instead of going down four on the hand, East made seven clubs doubled for a score of 2,330 points.

The extraordinary outcome was that a grand slam was made at one table by the East-West pair and made by their teammates at the other table with the North-South cards! The team gain on just this one deal was a hefty 4,540 points, which is not considered in any league.

The North West Mounted Police were formed in 1874 to patrol Canada's trackless wilderness.

City Board to ponder deficit in lunch fund

The City Board of Education will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday to consider a number of items highlighted by a request from Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor to transfer $5,000 from the general fund to the school lunchroom fund to eliminate a year-end deficit.

Nestor said the lunchroom operation is now receiving as many government commodities from the state this year, including very little meat. As a result, he said, it has been necessary to expend more from the fund for food, and prices, coincidentally, are higher than in past years.

The board also is expected to appoint elementary basketball coaches, employ a substitute teacher, approve a leave of absence for a bus driver because of illness, allow a Wilmington College student to complete student teaching requirements at Washington Senior High School, and approve a resolution agreeing that the city district will serve as fiscal agent for a speech therapist used by both the city and county schools.

Other items on the agenda include a request for approval of a teacher visitation program, the scheduling of a second Parent - Teacher Conference program, the announcement of an upcoming adult education conference, a request to use school facilities, and information reports concerning the rating of the JNROTC program, meeting times for the City Teachers Association with the board, the placement in service of a new bus and the replacement of windows at an elementary school.

Among requests will be that of the high school band director to attend an annual convention, a request for the approval of a resolution to authorize the spending of Permanent Improvement Fund money for new lighting at Gardner Park Stadium, and a report and request for the renovation

Elks' annual memorial Sunday night

The annual memorial service for deceased members will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Elks Lodge Home here. Probate - Juvenile Judge Omar A. Schwartz will deliver the memorial address before a gathering of Elks, their families and friends.

Seven members of the lodge, Colin C. Campbell, Walter L. O'Brien, George Stiles, Howard Baker, Herbert E. Wilson, William Sargent, Mark Gorton and John Douglass, have died during the past year. The memorial panel on the wall of the lodge meeting room bears the names of approximately 345 Elks who have died since the lodge was chartered in 1892.

In recent years, the lodge here has followed a policy of contributing $10 to the scholarship fund of the National Elks Foundation in the name of the deceased member instead of sending flowers for the funeral.

Bob Holman, secretary of the lodge here and a past district deputy, will deliver the memorial address for the Hamilton lodge Sunday.

The annual inspection of the Washington C. H. lodge by District Deputy Lewis Kirkpatrick, of Troy, will be Wednesday, and the traditional turkey dinner has been scheduled for Dec. 13.

Traffic Court

Three drivers were fined a total of $150 and six others forfeited bonds amounting to $138 in traffic cases called by Municipal Court Judge Reed M. Winegardner during the Friday afternoon session.
